We have been using the sunshine to create dinosaur shadows. We then used the shadows to draw some dinosaurs. It was lots of fun!

Dear Michael,

This letter is for you to say thank you for a well good day that you put together for year three. I also wanted to say hi how are you, I'm well and I hope you are to.

The day before, you came round Mrs Kinsella told us that you would be very interesting, but I didn't know you would be that interesting. I loved every bit of it. After lunch I remember that we played lots of different games. All of them were very fun and I wanted to be part of every one of them. The last proper game was a mummy wrapping competition and on that one I was bursting to have a go at it. Suddenly Mrs Kinsella picked me and Darcie for the girls and Sam and Aleia for the boys. Because I was the smallest out of me and Darcie I got wrapped. As soon as they were finished we got an eight and the boys got a seven.

As well as having fun you talk to us taught us a lot of things. You taught us how to read some hieroglyphs in maths. They were my favourite parts. You told us another name for Tutankhamen it was nekheperuse.

Kind Regards Isabelle

On Thin Ice

24th May 2018

Mystery book

This story is ~~about~~ amazing, and it's called "On Thin Ice". It's ~~about~~ authored by David Webb and illustrated by Karen Elliott. There is a girl called Heather and two boys called Woody and Pete. These are the people who set up the ~~the~~ trap to trick the children.

also

There are Mr. Smithson, Sir Samuel, Zak and Mr. Fletcher. These are the people who set up the trap to trick the children. Mr. Smithson set up the trap because he couldn't pay the bills and his people at the factories. You are going to find out in yourself what this ^{factory} trap is.

5 out of 5

I ~~would give~~ would rate this book ~~5~~ because it is really good and exciting! There is tons loads of mystery that you can find out in the chapters of the book. I would recommend this book to children aged 7-11. Buy it and read it and you won't regret it!!!

LO: To write a narrative

When the spider caught the fly

As the spooky Autumn sky settled down for the night, the tree silhouettes, which looked like rotten skeletons, were as black as tar. An unfinished, silver, moon-lit web lay between two branches of an old, oak tree.

An unlucky fly, who was called Isla, got caught in a sticky web and started tossing and turning like a shipwreck galling to its fate. Quaking with fear, the young fly kicked its feeble legs into the Autumn air, not realising that it was making her even more stuck in that awful mess.

"I'm going to devour this fly!" Cackled the spider.
"Please give mercy!" Isla begged.
"Never in a million years!" Spider screeched.
Isla sobbed, "Wait I don't want my life to end now."

Grabbing Isla's legs together, the cruel, powerful spider cried a menacing laugh, almost like he knew what was going on in her head. Isla's heart thumped in her chest and somehow she knew this was her awful fate.

Quickly, Isla started screeching over and over, "HELP!"
But spider acted swiftly, he threw a single piece of silk over at her mouth and it stopped her screaming.

Panting heavily, the spider used its spinnerettes and quickly wrapped Isla in a silk like string. Suddenly, the spider stopped just before he could wrap Isla's head up, his spinnerettes stopped working and when he tried again only a centimetre of silk came out.

A fraction of a second later, the spider tried again, but nothing came out, so the spider decided to leave Isla's head unwrapped and eat her in the morning for breakfast.

Isla mumbled, "Was this the fate of my parents too?"

As soon as dawn broke, the spider's eyes were open wide, "Time for breakfast." Hissed spider. Like a spear, he pierced his fangs into the fly and...
